Practice Areas: Bankruptcy and Commercial Litigation

Jim concentrates his practice in the area of commercial bankruptcy litigation. Jim's practice also extends to all areas of business litigation, including first-chair trial experience in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, the Delaware Court of Chancery and the Delaware Superior Court, Complex Commercial Litigation Division. Jim regularly serves as Delaware counsel for Hatch-Waxman patent litigation in the Delaware District Court, and he appears before other federal and state courts in Delaware representing a range of clients, including: financial institutions, bankruptcy debtors, bankruptcy trustees, bankruptcy committees, individual creditors of insolvent companies, as well as officers, directors, and shareholders involving matters of Delaware corporate jurisprudence, receiverships in the Court of Chancery, and local and national Delaware business entities. Jim has extensive experience resolving discovery issues, including promoting efficiencies of complex E-discovery and managing multi-party and third-party discovery.

Jim is a member of the Federal Bar Association, Delaware Chapter; the Delaware State Bar Association; and he actively participates in the American Bankruptcy Institute, Litigation Section; the American Bar Association, Business Litigation Section; as well as the Richard S. Rodney American Inn of Court. He holds leadership positions with the ABI Bankruptcy Litigation Section and the ABA Business Litigation Section Intellectual Property Committee.

Jim participates in Delaware's Federal Civil Panel and frequently is engaged on other pro bono litigation matters, and he currently serves as Secretary of the Board of Directors of Concord Soccer Club. He was named to the Delaware Law Weekly's 2016 Lawyers on the Fast Track.
